Established in 1885, Niagara Falls is the oldest state park in America. With more than 400 acres of land along the Niagara River’s rushing rapids and overlooking the rocky Niagara Gorge, the park includes a series of islands, overlook points, wooded areas, hiking and biking trails, rolling meadows, colorful gardens, picnic spots, and endless rainbows. There are also thrilling attractions and adventures to be had. Feel the unparalleled force of nature on Cave of the Winds, or take a cruise on the iconic double-decker Maid of the Mist. Peruse the new Welcome Center, highlighting topics such as natural, industrial, and Indigenous American history. It’s not hard to spend a day or more enjoying this magnificent landscape.
Niagara Falls State Park is always open for adventure. In fact, it’s open 365 days a year, meaning visitors can soak in its natural beauty in all four seasons. Plan a stroll and a picnic in the summertime, by far the park’s most popular season. In the fall, watch as the foliage becomes ablaze with color. Free snowshoe rentals in winter invite exploration of the park’s pure white landscape and crystalline Falls. In spring, look for birds and blooms to emerge as nature begins to wake for warmer weather.

A PARK FOR ALL SEASONS

LIGHTS, CAMERA, ACTION!

With its stunning landscape and iconic features, it’s no surprise that Niagara Falls can often be seen on the big screen. It’s been the backdrop of countless feature films, reality TV shows, music videos, documentaries, and fashion photo shoots, and a popular spot for wedding and engagement photos, nature photographers, and millions of visitor selfies.

The nine-foot bronze statue near the Cave of the Winds pays tribute to Nikola Tesla, whose innovations in electricity contributed to the success of the first hydroelectric power plant in the world at Niagara Falls.

The park was designed by Frederick Law Olmsted, the famous landscape architect behind New York City’s Central Park, Boston’s Emerald Necklace, and Buffalo’s network of parks and parkways. As the industrial revolution’s mills and factories made American cities dirty, noisy places to be by the 1880s, Olmsted was set on creating green spaces where people could find respite from the hustle and bustle. An early environmentalist, he believed that parks should be places that preserved natural beauty, where “the masses could be renewed.”

Inside the country’s oldest state park are some of the newest advances in sustainability. As part of this award-winning program, the Maid of the Mist is now 100% electric, and the Niagara Scenic Trolley runs on eco-friendly natural gas, and the new Welcome Center was designed with a focus on environmentally sustainable building practices.

Center Street, Lewiston
Lewiston

15 minutes from Niagara Falls

Overlooking the Niagara River is the picturesque Village of Lewiston and its historic Center Street, a shopper’s dream lined with independently owned stores and boutiques offering finds from hot sauces and sporting goods to clothing and home decor. The pretty main street is also a foodie destination full of cafes and restaurants, with favorites like the Brickyard Pub & BBQ, Cask + Cow, Orange Cat Coffee Co., Village Bake Shoppe, and The Silo Restaurant. Sample specialties with a side of history from six local restaurants on a Roaming Table Food Tour.

By the river, Whirlpool Jet Boat Tours whisk visitors through the Class V whitewater rapids on a thrilling 45-minute tour that highlights the power and the beauty of the Niagara River just below the Falls.

Year-round, Lewiston plays host to a variety of festivals and events, attracting thousands of visitors. The season kicks off in June with the fragrant and colorful Garden Festival, and ends in December with the Lewiston Christmas Walk, when the entire village is decked for the holidays. Expect Santa sightings, carriage rides, and a parade.

North Tonawanda

20 minutes from Niagara Falls

Halfway between Niagara Falls and Buffalo is North Tonawanda, a little laid-back city full of history and opportunities for exploration. Stroll Webster Street’s shops, then grab a bite to eat with options ranging from fine dining (Remington Tavern & Seafood Exchange, Webster’s Bistro, Canal Club 62) to casual cafes, pubs, and breweries (Coffee & Stone, Dwyer’s Pub, Prosper Brewing). Afterward, catch a live show at the historic Riviera Theatre.

The nearby Herschell Carrousel Factory Museum tells the story of one of the country’s most prolific merry-go-round makers, with a restored version to ride. Stroll or bike along the paved path that runs along the Canal and Tonawanda Creek, or rent a kayak and take advantage of the many launches along the way.

Spend a Saturday morning perusing the year-round North Tonawanda City Market, one of the area’s oldest and largest farmers markets with fresh produce and farm products.

At the northern end of the city, Platter’s Chocolate Factory welcomes visitors to witness the chocolate-making process. And Woodcock Brothers Brewery, Niagara County’s first, serves up good beer and a mouthwatering menu.
Lockport

As its name suggests, Lockport is a city known for its Flight of Five Locks, which allowed boats to essentially go uphill on the Erie Canal. There are plenty of opportunities to experience the area’s engineering marvels up close, including the Erie Canal Discovery Center, Lockport Locks & Erie Canal Cruises, Lockport Cave & Underground Boat Ride, Locks District Tours, and the Niagara Zipper, a zip line spanning 85 feet above the waterway.

Work up an appetite on ice bumper cars at Cornerstone Ice Arena, teeing up at Willowbrook Golf Course, biking or walking the Empire State Trail along the canal, or engaging with art, music, and theater at a local cultural institution.

Treats close to the city center include Steamworks Coffee, seasonal smoothies at Scripts Juice, and elevated pub favorites at Lock 34 Bar & Grill. Can’t-miss destinations on the outskirts of town are New York Beer Project and tasting rooms at Spring Lake Winery, Freedom Run Winery, and Arrowhead Spring Vineyards—to name a few.

Browse one of the many antique shops celebrating treasures from the past like Tattered Tulip and Windsor Village Old World Market.

Olcott

Perched on the shore of Lake Ontario is Olcott, a waterfront town that feels like a step back in time. There you’ll find a sandy swimming beach, ice cream shops and local restaurants, the historic Olcott Beach Lighthouse, a fishing pier, seasonal festivals, and a boardwalk lined with colorful boutiques at the Lakeview Village Shoppes.

Take a spin on an old-fashioned ride at Olcott Beach Carousel Park, a vintage kiddy park where rides are 25 cents. Stop by Bye’s Popcorn roadside stand to try their 100-year-old family recipes. Or find a grassy spot under a shade tree at Krull Park for a picnic with lake views.

Dubbed as “America’s Ultimate Fishing Town,” Olcott Beach and Newfane offer some of the best freshwater fishing in New York State. Hire an experienced charter captain and reel in a variety of fish species on one of the many waterways: Lake Ontario, Burt Dam, and 18 Mile Creek.

The drive from Niagara Falls to Olcott takes you along the lake shore and through orchard and vineyard country, where you’ll find seasonal farm stands, u-pick fruits, and wineries open for tastings year-round.

AN ANGLER’S ANGLE
FIND FANTASTIC FISHING ALL YEAR ROUND
I don’t think anywhere else in the country, freshwater-wise, can you find the size, the diversity and the numbers of fish that Niagara County has to offer to anglers. It’s a 12-months-a-year fishery…”

- FRANK CAMPBELL
  Destination Niagara USA’s outdoor promotions director

Find where the fish are biting with the help of local charter boat captains, who know all the “reel” good spots on Niagara’s many waterways.
When the Erie Canal opened in 1825, it ushered in a new chapter in American transportation history that made it easier to ferry people and products across New York State. The 363-mile waterway and its system of locks was an engineering marvel of the time that connected Lake Erie to the Hudson River and boosted economies along the way.

Boats and barges hauled commercial goods like lumber, grain, produce, and finished goods between cities and beyond via connecting canals and waterways, a much faster and cheaper option than shipping by ox-drawn wagons. Packet boats with sleeping quarters and a kitchen carried passengers in comfort on leisure trips. This kind of affordable travel along the Erie Canal made Niagara Falls more accessible for couples of all means, which helped crown the Cataract City the “honeymoon capital of the world.”
Today, sections of the Erie Canal still carry recreational boats and some commercial traffic, but it’s become a popular choice for a different kind of traveler: cyclists. The 360-mile Erie Canalway Trail, part of the larger Empire State Trail, closely follows active and historic sections of the canal between Buffalo and Albany. The route allows cyclists to get a glimpse of the same rural landscapes and canalside towns that people would’ve seen aboard boats in the waterway’s heyday.

Pro Tip
While the canal itself technically starts at Buffalo’s waterfront, Lockport is Erie Canal’s epicenter and perhaps the best place to see how it all works up close. Get a feel for life as a lock tender on the 45-minute Locks District Tour—you’ll even get to push the wooden beams that open the five-ton lock gates.

Canal History
The Locks District Museum is centrally located between the Flight of Five Locks and the Erie Barge Canal Locks, and tells the story of how the Erie Canal was built—by hand and animal power.

The new Lock Tenders Tribute Monument pays homage to the crew that worked 12-hour days from April through November to open and close Lockport’s Flight of Five locks, allowing freight boats to deliver their essential goods without delay.
Into BATTLE

300 YEARS OF HOLDING GROUND
The Niagara Region’s strategic location has put its cities and towns at the epicenter of some of the nation’s most historic conflicts and military activities. Bordered by the Niagara River and Lake Ontario, with close proximity to Canada and the city of Buffalo, there’s a rich history of flight, fight, and fearless acts by the area’s brave inhabitants.

Old Fort Niagara in Youngstown is the oldest continually occupied military site in the United States. Since 1679, the critical waterfront vantage point has volleyed between French, British, and American control, and played an important role in the French & Indian War, American Revolution, and the War of 1812.

Today, visitors can explore original 18th-century buildings, view musket and artillery demonstrations, take part in living history programs, and learn about life as it was centuries ago.

The Tuscarora Heroes Monument in Lewiston pays tribute to the Tuscarora Nation for saving the lives of dozens of townspeople during a brutal attack by the British during the War of 1812.

Representing more modern conflicts, the Niagara Aerospace Museum showcases the rich heritage of aviation breakthroughs in Western New York—including the premier World War I trainer aircraft for all the country’s military services, and the first U.S. commercially licensed helicopter, the Bell Model 47.

Spirited War Stories

Local legend says that Hustler’s Tavern in Lewiston was the only building left unscathed when the British invaded the frontier town during the War of 1812—and that it was the birthplace of the word “cocktail.” The term was supposedly coined when the original bar owner, Catherine Hustler, stirred a gin drink with the tail feather of a stuffed cockerel bird. The original building is gone, but a new tavern in its place pays homage to the village’s early history.

From the banks of the Niagara River, you can look across the narrow waterway and clearly see Canada. Throughout the 1800s, though, formerly enslaved people stood in that same spot and saw something else: freedom.
There are many reasons why Niagara Falls and the nearby towns along the river served as crucial crossings for people escaping slavery in the South. A strong network of notable abolitionists lived and worked in Niagara Falls and nearby Buffalo, including Harriet Tubman. Niagara Falls was easily accessible via several transportation routes including the Erie Canal. City residents, particularly African Americans, were more than willing to help. And it was an established border crossing where people could travel under the cover of night by rowboat or a suspension bridge across the swift-moving Niagara River.

The Freedom Crossing Monument at a critical river crossing in Lewiston honors the courageous journeys of freedom seekers and the volunteers who protected them.

The Niagara Falls Underground Railroad Heritage Center, overlooking the former location of the International Suspension Bridge, invites visitors to explore the experiences of freedom seekers and the residents of Niagara Falls who helped guide them to safety. A permanent exhibition at the center called “One More River to Cross” features stories of self-emancipation by freedom seekers, and highlights modern connections to allow for deeper engagement and motivation to action. The center’s collection of archives and artifacts helps students and researchers understand even more about the region’s role in the Underground Railroad.

The Heritage Arts Mural Project features a dozen outdoor murals spread throughout the downtown area of Main Street and Depot Avenue. Many of the works, all by local artists, highlight stories of freedom and champions of change in the Highland Community of Niagara Falls.
Racing, white-capped rapids rushing six million cubic feet of water over the brink every minute. A 188-foot vertical drop. Sharp, crushing boulders and swirling whirlpools at the foot of the Falls. It’s one of the most dangerous natural wonders in the world—and still, people throughout history have dared to challenge the power of Niagara Falls (with varying degrees of success).

Annie Edson Taylor was the first person to survive a trip over the Falls in a barrel. She walked away with only bruises.

1911
Bobby Leach upgraded to a steel barrel for his plunge, but broke both kneecaps and his jaw in the process.

1920
Englishman Charles G. Stephens added an anvil to his wooden barrel for ballast, and tied himself to it for security. After the plunge, his right arm was the only item left in the barrel.

1961
William FitzGerald’s ball-like contraption kept him alive during his fall.

1985
Canadian John Munday made a successful trip in his barrel, with a second successful plunge in 1993.

1995
Robert Overacker rode a jet ski over the brink, but his parachute failed to open and his body was never recovered.

2003
Kirk Jones survived an intentional ride over the Falls wearing just the clothes on his back.

2012
Nik Wallenda, known for world record high-wire walks without a safety net, walked a tightrope stretched across the top of Niagara Falls. He was required to wear a safety harness during the live television broadcast of the stunt.

2017
On the fifth anniversary of her husband’s stunt, aerialist Erendira Wallenda successfully dangled 300 ft. over the Falls by her teeth.

Style: Big & Outside

Local artists are adding splashes of color to already vibrant and unique communities throughout the region, like Art Alley NF, with 19 bold, expressive murals. Throughout Artpark in Lewiston, massive outdoor installations—many of them interactive—invite the curious to become part of the art.

Niagara Falls itself is one of the most frequently painted landscapes in the world. But the region’s creativity stretches far beyond the canvas and into a veritable palette of cultural experiences to entertain and engage a diverse collection of tastes.
Style: Genre-blending
Some cultural institutions in the Niagara region offer programming and events that blend visual arts, music, theater, dance, and more all in one place. Harvest an Incredible Array of Agricultural Experiences

If it’s true that an apple a day keeps the doctor away, then folks in the Niagara Region must be a pretty healthy bunch. That’s because this historically agricultural community has grown millions of apples since the first trees were planted in the region around 1790. In 1825, the opening of the Erie Canal allowed Niagara County apples to be shipped across the country.

And it’s not just about apples. Local orchards, many that have been passed along throughout generations, are known for their abundant and tasty stone fruits. Vineyards churn out grapes and award-winning wines, and farmers produce local fruits and veggies, meat, dairy, eggs, and even Christmas trees.

Each spring, fruit country comes to life with fragrant pink and white blossoms on trees as far as the eye can see. Starting in May, local farmers markets and roadside stands brim with seasonal goods, and area chefs display their creative takes on farm-to-table cuisine. U-pick season begins with cherries, and ends with apples and pumpkins. Each fall, orchards and farms play host to harvest festivals, hayrides, and corn mazes, and seasonal treats like fresh-pressed apple cider, warm cider donuts, and decadent apple pie put everyone in the autumnal spirit.
Experiment with ingredients and hone your cooking and baking skills with a hands-on class at Niagara Falls Culinary Institute.

REGIONAL WINES FEATURE DISTINCTLY LOCAL FLAVORS

Twelve thousand years ago, a massive glacier raked across the Niagara region, creating Niagara Falls and the Great Lakes—leaving rich soil in its wake. What does that have to do with wine? The simple answer is: everything.

Experience the Taste of Place
ny wine-drinker has heard the word terroir, but the term is at the literal root of the Niagara Region’s wine production. Our taste of place comes directly from that glacial soil and sloping topography warmed by lake breezes, creating a unique microclimate and ideal growing conditions for thousands of acres of grapes and fruit trees. And what’s harvested from those branches and vines are some of the biggest—and tastiest—reasons why visitors come to sip their way through more than two dozen wineries that make up the Niagara wine region today.

While many wineries offer award-winning dry varieties, Niagara wines tend toward the sweeter side. They feature classic vinifera that grow well here (pinot noir, cabernet, chardonnay, riesling) and the region’s native Niagara grape, a variety invented locally and grown for juice, table fruit, and wine. The Niagara is a pale green grape with a distinct floral sweetness that shines on its own or in blends.

Many Niagara wineries also pull from their own orchards or fruit-growing neighbors to add other juices to the barrel, creating a cornucopia of artisan fruit wines. These selections carry notes of fruits like apricot, plum, blackberry, and current, and are beautiful in the glass with hues from deep amber to pale peach.

The most rewarding way to try these distinct wines is to tour the individual wineries welcoming and unique tasting rooms, talk directly to winemakers and staff, and enjoy a glass of wine overlooking the vineyards and land that made that pour possible.

CHEERS to the BEERS

Not a wine person? Not a problem. The region is home to a talented community of brewers, cider makers, distillers, and mead-makers, too.

Deliciously Italian

Throughout the turn of the last century, waves of Italian immigrants settled in Niagara Falls USA, bringing with them their families, traditions, and well-loved recipes. Today, in the Little Italy area of Niagara Falls and throughout the region, a deeply rooted Italian cuisine heritage is celebrated on local, family-run restaurant menus featuring generous portions of signature specialties that are simply delizioso.

Carmelo’s Coat of Arms
Leviston
The menu at this upscale, chef-owned destination changes almost weekly, featuring a creative take on calamari and always housemade pasta.

Casa Antica Restaurant & Lounge
Leviston
An extensive Italian wine list pairs with Sicilian specialties; a local favorite is a pair of arancini (rice balls), each with their own signature stuffing.

The Como Restaurant
Niagara Falls
This Little Italy icon has featured hearty Southern Italian dishes like Veal Francesca since 1927, with all meats cut fresh at the restaurant’s in-house butcher shop.

Fortuna’s Restaurant & Banquets
Niagara Falls
The third-generation of the Fortuna family serves up comforting old-world ambiance, beans and greens, and homemade ravioli with a secret sauce.

La Hacienda Ristorante & Pizzeria
Niagara Falls
While the decor has a Mexican vibe, the food is decidedly Italian. The cash-only spot serves some of the area’s best NY-style pizza.

Michael’s Restaurant
Niagara Falls
A favorite recommendation of area tour guides, arrive hungry for huge portions and don’t miss the Chef salad with hand-rolled mozzarella.

Molinaro’s Ristorante
Lockport
Enjoy a plate of Mamma M’s twist dips, garlicky baked dough with a side of sauce, in a cozy, casual atmosphere. Stop by the bakery case for Italian cookies.

Frankie Primo’s +39
North Tonawanda
Expect decadent twists on Italian classics in a modern, but rustic setting. Save room for the housemade gelato or tiramisu.
The Nuances of Niagara Falls-Style Pizza

New York City has its paper-thin mega slices. Chicago goes deep dish. Detroit’s pies are rectangles with upside-down toppings. Here in Western New York, you’ll find local takes on all of these—plus our own regional style layered with flavor and character.

- Pepperoni: cup-and-char (tiny slices that bake into cups with crispy edges)
- Cheese: mozzarella-provolone blend, and lots of it
- Sauce: rich and a little sweet
- Crust: thick and airy
- Shape: circular or rectangular
- Slices: square or triangle
- Served With: Wings, celery and carrot sticks, blue cheese dip (never ranch)

An array of member wineries and historical attractions await visitors along Lake Ontario’s beautiful countryside. Stretching from Niagara to Monroe County, the Niagara Wine Trail is just minutes from Niagara Falls, NY, and open for year-round tastings.

Celebrating 20 years of fine wine and specialty beverages

A celebration. A snack. A boost of energy. Just because. For every reason there is to indulge in a little dose of sugar, there’s a locally crafted sweet treat ready to hit the spot.

Lake Effect Ice Cream makes small-batch, artisan treats with wildly creative flavors like frozen hot chocolate, whiskey brown sugar, black sesame, and local loganberry.

Platter’s Chocolates sponge candy and orange chocolate are crave-worthy confections—a sweet tradition that began 85 years ago in Carl Platter’s North Tonawanda basement.

Hibbard’s Frozen Custard is ice cream’s richer cousin, rooted in recipes dating back to 1939. Made fresh throughout the day, the rotating custard menu entices customers all summer long.

Hoover’s Dairy sells fresh, creamy chocolate, strawberry, and coffee milk in glass bottles at the dairy shop and in local grocery stores. The seasonal eggnog sells out every weekend.

Half Baked Cookies features a delicious assortment of hefty cookies with decadent soft centers and a kaleidoscope of fillings, chunks, chips, and sprinkles.

DiCamillo Bakery, a family-owned institution for more than 100 years, is famous for their cake-like donuts and for introducing the biscotti to the American coffee break.

Johnnie Ryan 100% pure cane sugar soda comes in vintage glass bottles and classic flavors like birch beer and cherry. Ordering tip: locals call soda “pop.”

It’s an unsung big small town whose turn-of-the-last-century heyday lined the city’s streets with architecture from the biggest names in buildings, world-class arts and cultural institutions, and a network of parks and parkways designed by the great Frederick Law Olmsted. But tucked among these historic treasures is evidence of innovation and entrepreneurship that’s inviting new energy, excitement and activity, and making Buffalo an exciting place to be. Old factories transformed into bustling residential and commercial hubs. A revitalized waterfront, with historic grain elevators and battleships overlooking bustling attractions and sunsets over Lake Erie. Centuries of ethnic food and breweries welcoming newcomers in both realms regularly.

Buffalo is undergoing a careful renaissance that balances a rich past with a promising future, and it’s worth a visit. But one thing that’s never changed is its people. Known as the City of Good Neighbors, Buffalo welcomes visitors old, new, and everyone in between.
